Should You Register?

Anyone starting a business in Manitoba needs to find out if they require workers compensation coverage because most businesses that employ workers in Manitoba are required to register with the WCB.

Workers compensation coverage provides your workers with a comprehensive benefit package in the event of a work-related injury or illness and protects you from lawsuit in the event of a work-related injury.

The WCB also offers comprehensive and cost-effective insurance coverage for businesses and business owners not automatically covered by workers compensation legislation.

To find out if your business falls within the industries covered by The Workers Compensation Act, please contact us using one of the methods listed on the next page.

What Information Do You Need to Register?

Before you begin the registration process, you should have the following information available:

- Legal name of business entity
- WCB Account Number* (if known)
- Nine-digit Business Number (if known)
- Business contact information
- Date workers were/will be hired
- Estimated annual payroll from the time you begin employing until the end of the calendar year
- Information pertaining to sale if the business was purchased

*If you have had contact with the WCB in the past, your Account Number will be available on any previous correspondence you received. Previous correspondence may refer to a Firm Number which is the same as Account Number.

Workers compensation coverage provides your workers with a comprehensive benefit package.
